Dear Rado

Just a short note to thank you most sincerely for taking the time and trouble to participate in our LIFESTYLES programme yesterday, to talk about arm-wrestling in Bulgaria.

It is only with the enthusiasm and support of people such as yourself that we are able to put together such an interesting and wide-ranging radio magazine programme.

Thanks so much for coming in to the studio and arm-wrestling Warwick!

Every good wish to you.

Yours sincerely

Strength shown in competition for armwrestling

HEIDELBERG - More than 40 contestants put their elbows together and displayed their strength in an armwrestling competition on Saturday 10 May. The night was fun-filled while everybody enjoyed their free ice-cream. It could be seen from the word go that Jaco Nel meant to take the trophy home. The winners of the competition are Jaco Nel in first place, second Sarel de Bruin and third Radostin Moskov. The competition was arranged by Radostin Moskov and Barend Lengton of R&B Promotions and the sponsors were Senior Nels, Tommy's Snack Shop and Heidelberg Gesondheidsateljee. The next competition will be held on 14 June. Entrance is free.

Testing their strength in arm wrestling

HEIDELBERG - Estelle Cazalet and Darlene Crow were seen pitting their strength against one another in the seventh MC Rado Moskov Arm Wrestling competition held at Aylesbury Ice Cream on Friday 7 November. Although there weren't many people bold enough to try their might, the participants all enjoyed the competition and their complimentary ice cream.

Dates for your Diary

Rado set to wrestle your arm

Northglen News Reporter

BULGARIAN arm wrestling promoter, MC Rado Moskov, will bring his spectacular show to Umhlanga on Sunday, 15 March at 3pm.

The show - which Rado has already taken through the Cape and Gauteng - is free and men, women, teens and children are welcome to participate.

"My mission is to raise awareness of the sport to become an accepted sport," said 29-year-old Rado.

"It is not a professional sport, but a plain sport which is fun for plain people."

He has done free training workshops and demonstrations for the public in order to achieve his goal since he came to South Africa, seeking political asylum, in 1996.

"I never charge for my show because I want to make the sport popular and enjoyable."

And, he said girls were not as afraid to participate as the boys!

"Girls are not afraid to take part in the show, men are more afraid because if they lose it is a disgrace!" he said.

Fantastic prizes are available and the winner of the show will receive a week's holiday for six people worth R6000.

Contact: Rado 0836293039.

Arm wrestling takes off on Bluff

ARM WRESTLING is taking off on the Bluff with a new venture by a Russian promoter.

MC Rado Moskov is holding a competition at Ansteys Beach on March 1 and there is no entry charge.

The first prize is a lamb and runner-up prizes totalling R2 000.

There are also T-shirt giveaways for competitors.

There is also a name counting competition which is currently running.

There is free juice for competitors and men, women and children are invited to participate in the event.

Rado is holding the competitions all over South Africa, in Gauteng and KwaZulu-Natal.

Arm wrestling is not a sport practised often in South Africa and Rado hopes to get the sport up and running.

He has been offering free demonstrations to groups all over South Africa.

"There are lots of people in South Africa with talent that can compete in this internationally growing sport," said Rado.

Hannes Lengton, under 11 champion, will be at the Bluff competition to take on KwaZulu-Natal youngsters.

Louis is no push-over

THE WINNERS of the MC Rado Moskov arm wrestling show held on the Bluff over the weekend are:

First was Louis Breytenbach, who won a lamb. Louis' hands are about 60cm in diameter.

There were about 300 spectators at the show and 88 people participated.

The youngest participant was four and the oldest 72.

Rado Moskov thanked all the spectators and businesses that supported the show.

The next show will be April 5, 3pm, at Ansteys Beach.

There will be more prizes, valued at R3 000, to be won.

Every winner gets a T-shirt and a certificate when they compete in the show.

Spectators also win with a name counting competition and free food on the day.

Entry to the show is free.

"At the show there is no loser and people learn a lot about arm wrestling," said Rado. Even the losers get something.

Two competitors could not come to a conclusion in their match and the winner had to be decided by a push-up competition. The winner did 44 pushups.

Arm wrestlers attract 300-strong crowd

A CAPACITY crowd gathered last Sunday, April 5, to witness MC Rado Moskov's arm wrestling show at Ansteys Beach.

A 300-strong audience gathered to watch 60 competitors battle it out.

Freddie de Bruin took top honours in the men's division, and won a lamb.

Laura Cunningham took first prize in the ladies category, and Bradly Cooksley and Tyrone Bosch won the children's and teen sections respectively.

The youngest participant was two-years-old. Lots of T-shirts were handed out to members of the audience.

The next competition is at 3pm on Sunday, May 3, at Ansteys Beach.

Husband and wife wrestle their way to the top

RESULTS of the latest MC Rado Moskov arm wrestling show:

Winner men's division: Bennie Havenga with his wife Shanel taking the women's division.

Teens winner was Craig Botha and in the kids section Bradley Cooksley took top honours. The prize was a whole lamb.

NOVELTY

A novelty was the beauty competition.

Ten people from the audience were the jury and they chose Miss MC Rado Moskov arm wrestling show, Caren Fisher.

Another novelty during the break was a push-up competition in which Claiton made 55!

Fish and chips was given free of charge for a name counting competition.

Every winner got a T-shirt and first places received a special diploma.

Rado Moskov

thanks all the people and businesses who supported the show.

Next show will be on Sunday, June 7, at 3pm. The venue will be Anstey's Beach.

JUNE 19, 1998

Arm wrestlers show their muscle

THE winners of the Rado Moskov arm wrestling competition held at Ansteys Beach on Sunday, June 7, were:

First place in the men's division: David Muil of Pietermaritzburg. David won a lamb. First place in the women's section went to Chanel Havenga, with a R150 gift voucher prize. The top youngster was Kevin Bratt and best in the teenage section was Clayton Holloway. A big crowd encouraged the arm wrestlers and television coverage was provided.

Due to adverse weather conditions, the surf competition was postponed to next Sunday. The next arm wrestling competition is scheduled for July 5, at 2pm at Ansteys Beach. For more information, or to organise special shows at your own venue, contact the organiser, Rado Moskov on 083.629-3039.

JULY 10, 1998

Arm wrestlers show their strength

A HIGHLY successful arm wrestling show was held at Ansteys Beach on Sunday, July 5.

Martin Wright took top honours in the men's division and Chanel Havenga again won the women's division of the MC Rado Moskov arm wrestling contest.

Yolandi Naude won the girl's division and Carel Steyn conquered all his opponents in the teenager's division.

Garth Urquhart and

Terence Alexander won the under and over-12 divisions respectively. Many T-shirts and prizes were again awarded.

AUGUST 7, 1998

Strong arm tactics at Ansteys

Bennie takes first place again

WINNERS of the MC Rado Moskov arm wrestling competition at Ansteys Beach last Sunday are:-

In the men's division, first Bennie Havenga, second, Andre Voges and third Rado Moskov.

Mitchell Bonett took first place in the teenagers division, with Jonathan Dickson and Treshan Ramroop a close second and third.

First in the women's section was Nicoli Venter, with Chanel Havenga placing second and Kim Short third.

Nobuhle Mkhize

took top place in the under-13 girls section and Donna Roux won the girls under-10 section.

Christopher Herbert, Justin Geyser and Mervin Kroutz placed first to third respectively, in the boys under-12 division.

Three pairs of twins competed in this month's competition.

The next competition, at Ansteys Beach is on Sunday, September 6, from 3pm onwards. For more information contact Rado on 083 629-3039.

Strong-arm tactics at Ansteys

A LOCAL lifesaver, Herbert Green, placed third in last Sunday's arm wrestling competition at Ansteys Beach.

Gideon Visser placed first in the men's division, with Bennie Havenga a close second.

Clayton Holloway

was first in the teenagers competition, second was Mitchell Bormet and third, Hendrick Nunez.

U12s Tyron Walker, Christopher Herbert and Mark Harding placed first, second and third respectively.

Chanel Havenga

again took top position in the ladies line-up, with Tumi Ramkhasa placing second and third Buhle Diko.

U12 girls posed tough competition for one another.

Tamim Holland came first, Jolene Pitman second and Saiyuri Naidoo was third.

In the U15 girls there was one winner, Carmen Holland.

The next arm wrestling competition is at 3pm on Sunday, October 4, at Ansteys Beach.

For more information contact MC Rado Moskov on 083 629-3039.

Powerful performance at weekend arm wrestling tourney

ABOUT 200 spectators enjoyed MC Rado Moskov's monthly arm wrestling bout at Ansteys Beach last Sunday, with the women's section of the competition keeping the crowd entertained until the bitter end.

While Mary McLellan clinched first position in the women's division, competition for second and third place proved stiff.

BATTLED

Agnes Sani and Navi Govender battled it out for an hour, without a defeat.

According to organiser, Rado Moskov, the crowd decided the women should match their skills in a push-up match. Agnes took second place with 18 push-ups.

First in the men's section was Dave Ballgobin, second

Johan de Kok and Peter Matthee placed third.

In the U7 category, Nadia Matthee beat Derek Mostert to victory.

CHAMP

Shaun Jones was the U12 champ, while Byron Wilson and Graham Schwegmann came a close second and third respectively.

Denzel Smit won the teenager's category of the competition. Yeshika Govender won the girl's division.

The next show takes place at Ansteys Beach at 3pm on Sunday, November 8.
